Grade-level:
Upper Elementary - High School

Description This video provides a brief overview of the purpose and goals of N/OS. It includes brief interviews with Patrice O’Neill, founder of N/OT and other N/OS leaders and offers examples from schools that have taken action to end bias, harassment, bullying and create safer school environments.

Directions After viewing the video, engage students in a discussion using some or all of the following questions:

- What do you notice about N/OS and how it works?
- How do you think N/OS can be used to address bullying or intolerance in a school community?
- Do you agree with the idea that it is human nature to categorize and stereotype other people? If so, how do we stop ourselves from acting on our stereotypes or biases?
- Do you agree with the statement “silence equals acceptance” in the face of bias or bullying? Why or why not?
- What student activities on film drew your attention?
- How could you see implementing N/OS in our school or district?
